

YIP Project Overview Figure

The YIP project was conducted in the Metro Vancouver region and included: a) Interviews with service providers who work with at-risk street-involved youth, b) one-on-one interviews and focus group interviews with street-involved youth, c) a process evaluation of the youth co-researchers involvement in the project, d) dissemination of the findings at various conference, through our webpage, and knowledge translation workshops being conducted in communities across BC.

Knowledge translation

Results used to inform

Results used to inform